Class Series Summary
 A series of five weekly, two and one half hour classes designed to introduce students to basic watercolor tools and techniques, as well as a positive approach to painting as a process of self-expression. Classes will be appropriately adapted to various age groups ranging from elementary school age to senior citizen.
 The overall goal of these workshops is to present a life-enriching and positive approach to learning watercolor basics to facilitate self-expression, increase self-esteem, and improve the ability to focus.
