WATERCOLOR CLASSES

Class Series Summary

A series of five weekly, two and one half hour classes designed to introduce students to basic watercolor tools and techniques, as well as a positive approach to painting as a process of self-expression. Classes will be appropriately adapted to various age groups ranging from elementary school age to senior citizen.

The overall goal of these workshops is to present a life-enriching and positive approach to learning watercolor basics to facilitate self-expression, increase self-esteem, and improve the ability to focus.

Biography

Jeff Mayfield captures beauty with both brush and lens. Self-taught artist/photographer Mayfield has been pursuing his craft for over a decade. His paintings and photographs appear at exhibits, shows and middle Tennessee galleries. His nature and industrial photos appear in numerous publications and professional venues as well as the web.

Mayfield's formal education earned him a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration from the University of Tennessee at Knoxville in 1983, a career in public accounting, eighteen years as the Chief Financial Officer for Quality Industries in LaVergne, Tennessee and now his current position as the President and Chief Executive Officer.

Artist Statement

"Art uses many mediums to communicate with one's emotions and spirit. For me, visual media express my feelings, thoughts and ideas."

My work uses the visual arts to communicate emotional and spiritual messages through treatment of scenes and objects of daily life.

DEBBIE MAFIELD ARTIST

Biography

Mrs. Mayfield's journey to professional artist was destined, yet not direct. Her original ambition was to work at Kay's Kastle Ice Cream parlors like her grandmother had once done.

Recently she has begun to more fully explore oils; however, her background in watercolor is extensive. While completing her undergraduate degree at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, Mayfield had the opportunity to study under renowned artist, George Cress.

For several years, Mrs. Mayfield served an informal apprenticeship under artist Vicki Daniel Hardee, owner of Studio II Art Center in Chattanooga. While there, Mayfield developed her watercolor techniques and taught both adult and student art classes.

Dorothy Talmadge, Mary Zelle, Sandy Ross, and Nancy Fortune have also tutored Mrs. Mayfield.

Some detours along Mrs. Mayfield's path include graduating at age twenty from the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga with a B.S. in psychology; attending Texas Christian University on a full golf scholarship; and passing the Tennessee bar exam in 1983 after receiving a J.D. from the University of Tennessee College of Law. Mrs. Mayfield has been married for twenty-nine years to Jeff Mayfield. They have two daughters Dorie and Katie Mayfield, and two godchildren Jessica and Justin Smith.

Recently, Mrs. Mayfield conducted a watercolor workshop in Tullahoma, taught art classes at the Bellwood Discovery School in Murfreesboro, and demonstrated watercolor techniques at the Artisan Depot in Cowan. For several years, she taught at CADAS, the Council on Alcohol and Drug Abuse Services, in Chattanooga, Tennessee. Her work is currently exhibited at several locations throughout Tennessee. She is a member of AVA (Chattanooga's Association for Visual Artists), the Tennessee Art League, and the Murfreesboro-Rutherford Art League, Franklin County Artists Guild, and the Tullahoma Fine Arts Center.
